Hi! I’m Happy, a dwarf, and here is my way of Snow White. POP! Why are the fireworks not going off? Pshhh! There they go! Ok, let’s get to the topic.

It first started when my pals, Doc, Bashful, Sleepy, Sneezy, Dopey, Grumpy and I got back from mining and saw that everything was rearranged (mostly cleaned but let’s stick to the topic). So we went upstairs to see if anyone was there. When we went up we were surprised to see a person there right in front of us and her name was Snow White. We were really glad that we had company. We straight up had a big party and didn’t even care about the other stuff she did!

A couple more days later of us having parties and stuff like that, and someone banged on the door. Snow White said she will get it. I said to be careful and I guess she didn’t listen. When we went outside (because the woodland creatures told us to) the only thing we found was Snow White dead on the ground. Wait, cut the story! Why and how can woodland creatures talk to you? Oh well! Let’s get back to the story.

We also found a prince standing right in front of her just staring in her eyes. So I put her in a coffin made of glass. The prince fell in love and almost kissed her but, Grumpy stopped him right there. “WHY ARE YOU GOING FOR A KISS” my pal grumpy yelled. My pals were all arguing with him that he doesn’t know her name yet he’s going to kiss her. Then I shouted, “STOP!” Then I explained to them that it doesn’t matter because she is dead now. So we let him kiss and she came back to life. “Zombie!” Dopey cried. When he said that we all ignored him.

Snow White went with him to his palace to get married even if they don’t know each other’s name and just met. The rest of the dwarfs and I lived a happy life at the end and that’s it.
